

Reviews and Testimonials

“Participants very much appreciate learning from a 'real' person tackling various leadership challenges encountered on international assignments. The "Kai Bendix Story" DVD makes ideal learning material because of its authenticity, its inclusion of multiple local perspectives from India and Bulgaria and because of the multi-dimensional leadership issues it addresses. I found it truly outstanding.”

Eva Nell, Founder and Owner, Silkroad Management Consulting

“This is a well crafted and produced film that articulates many dilemmas in the trans-cultural leadership area. Not only does it confront us with real people in real situations but it opens the door for the exploration of multiple behavioural options. It is a great tool to address fundamental leadership issues of today and to foster serious conversations about, for example, ‘how transferable’ the problems are in terms of micro and macro-cultures or ‘simulate’ alternative leadership behaviours and alternative outcomes. It is a key instrument for development of individual and group leadership across cultures and mental frames.”

Leandro Herrero, CEO of the Chalfont Project Ltd

“I used the DVD with one of my own international clients recently and was impressed by the way in which it played such a pivotal role in the leadership programme. It addresses many of the real issues faced by business leaders in an increasingly complex and diverse world and reinforces the learning by reflecting best practice in both leadership skills and working across functional and cultural boundaries. One of the key benefits is that the lessons are readily transferable to any organization and leader.”

Rob James, Managing Director, TJP Leadership and Executive Development and Programme Director, London Business School